Opportunity Funding

For more information contact:
Susan S. Bunting, Ed.D.
Secretary of Education
susan.bunting@doe.k12.de.us

Funding Period: Fiscal Year 2020
Purpose: The Opportunity Funding initiative creates a three-year weighted funding program across the state. Delaware is currently one of only a handful of states without additional funding for English learners (ELs) and/or low-income students (low-income).

Allocation Method: Local education agencies (LEAs) will receive $500 per EL and $300 per low-income student. Funding shall be made available to LEAs upon the passage of the FY20 budget in early July so they may begin to hire staff, procure instructional materials, execute contracts for services, and plan for the upcoming school year. LEAs may use this funding for 100 percent of staff costs, including, but not limited to, reading specialists, math specialists, school counselors, school social workers, school psychologists, and other personnel dedicated to initiatives such as trauma-informed practices.

Accountability: LEAs will be held accountable to ensure funds are used to improve outcomes for low-income and EL students. Districts and charters will work with Secretary Bunting to set goals at the beginning of the school year, participate in a mid-year progress review, and then evaluate summative performance data during their end of school year conference. Community accountability will be provided in a summit to highlight best practices, in an annual report, and in spotlights showing program successes and challenges across the state.

Metrics: Districts and charters will set goals to annually increase overall DSSF (Delaware School Success Framework) scores for EL and low-income students as well as reduce the gap between English learners’, low-income students’, and the all students’ subgroup baseline performance rates and 100 percent by half, thus reducing students’ non-proficiency by 50 percent.

In addition to the accountability measure data, the Delaware Department of Education (DDOE) will provide support by offering
- Toolkits on evidence-based best practices for improving outcomes for EL and low-income students.
- Guidance for selecting high quality instructional materials.
- Technical support enabling LEAs to take a comprehensive look at their funding streams in order to maximize and coordinate them.
- Professional learning provided by content experts.
- Sharing best practices in a variety of ways including regular meetings with curriculum directors, chiefs/principals, social media and presentations.

DDOE will use a third party to also evaluate
- The effectiveness of funds in improving outcomes for EL and low-income students.
- The successes and challenges/shortcomings of the program, including recommendations for future enhancements.

Opportunity Funding Form
2019-2020 School Year

Results from the first year of funding will be finalized in August 2020. Subsequently, DDOE will host a summit in early fall to share the report and best practices. In late fall 2020, the third-party evaluation will be complete and results will be posted after districts and charters verify them.

Overall Summary

Provide an overview of how the Opportunity Funding will be used to improve outcomes for English learners and low-income students in your district or charter school.

Include an explanation of how the work will impact each target population as well as the rationale for selecting the plan.

In Joseph Murphy's article "Closing Achievement Gaps: Lessons from the Last 10 Years," the research confirms that "an integrated, coherent design that thoughtfully combines multiple efforts is more advantageous than scattered, ad hoc efforts." Smyrna School District recognizes that our English learner and low-income students can benefit from comprehensive and innovative programs and initiatives that cover a wide spectrum of needs. The local school district and the Smyrna School District collaborate on (1) Early Literacy Interventions, (2) Community Outreach, (3) Trauma-Informed and Restorative Learning (TIRL) Practices, and (4) Teacher Professional Development. Throughout many cycles of inquiry as well as building and district-level needs assessments, we have uncovered our student's literacy skills, and more specifically early literacy, as a central cause of many of our students' struggles. This is particularly true for our students of low-income and English learners. This spring, Smyrna Elementary School piloted a new intervention program by American Reading Company that engaged all students. In combination with a revamped "High 5" model that included our EL, STEP, and Reading Specialist, students at Smyrna Elementary showed tremendous growth. The program requires extensive training and coaching, but, executed well, our teachers, specialists, and administrations believe that it will markedly improve the literacy of our struggling EL students. Bringing this program to scale, throughout our district will have a significant impact on our EL and low-income students. In addition to this in-school intervention, the Smyrna School District is committed to offering after-school tutoring to our low-income and EL students. However, Research indicates "new-to-care tutoring is an effective strategy for improving at-risk students' (including those who are struggling, EL, or special education students) proficiency in core subject areas including reading and math."

Research clearly indicates that family involvement is positively associated with improving multiple achievement gaps outcomes. The Smyrna School District has always prided itself on being a strong community-based district that works cooperatively. As the Smyrna community evolves and changes, however, the district must make new connections and continually reframe its dedication to its residents. In the spirit of establishing positive relationships with parents, Smyrna schools will be hosting multiple Family-School events. Each school will be given the task of creating events that encourage families to attend. Because English learners and low-income families are typically not represented in after-school events, the events will cater to these populations. With a healthy budget and willing attitude, our schools will help to create events that ensure that they are an important part of our school communities.

In the tradition of Early Literacy Research, Dockin and his research, "In middle-income neighborhoods the rate of books per child is 183, in low-income neighborhoods, the rate is 1, one appropriate book for every 300 children." This startling figure prompted the Smyrna School District to commit to getting books into the hands of our community at cost. The Southeastern Library Initiative is a combination of a focus on early literacy and commitment to community schools. The Southeastern Library Initiative will drive into low-income neighborhoods and locations to deliver free books to all members of our community. This will likely be a summer-time project, but the Libraries will also make visits throughout the year at special events. Each school in our district, along with some of our targeted neighborhoods, will receive a lending library, a secured box filled with books that are free for the taking. We will continually fill, update, and rotate books through these receptacles to encourage reading in our communities. We believe that these initiatives will effectively place books into the hands of many low-income families and with proper planning can help increase the homes of English Learners. The Smyrna School District has the advantage of our local communities and our school's in-school or culturally sensitive, trauma-informed and restorative practices, we support our students and teachers in ways that produce meaningful dividends for their needs, and preclude any of their cultural or linguistic differences, they are more likely to have high academic achievement. "Thus, professional development and ongoing professional learning communities can help teachers develop cultural awareness and strategies for teaching culturally diverse students." Teachers need to have the skills to make students feel valued and their community included. Teachers need to be more mindful of our students' needs and the district at the forefront of trauma-informed education. With the money provided by the Opportunity Funding, we plan to bring in Kristen James and Michael Hall, experts in the field of trauma, to conduct a full-day session or two-day introduction. The message here is that these district-wide workshops will combine with additional school-based work to help our district move into the forefront.
